Challenges of Legal Systems

Legal (i)rational Authority Amidst Global Shifts

The 21st century has seen its share of breakthroughs and breakdowns. Promise of peace, global communication and technological marvels juxtaposed by climate change, financial crisis, regional conflicts and a global pandemic.

The complexity of contemporary legal systems, and the dynamic and rapidly changing geopolitical landscape, create many challenges that require a constant review of legal frameworks, in-depth analysis, and innovative solutions in the direction of creating new norms, instruments, and paradigms capable of effectively dealing with the multifaceted challenges that legal systems are undoubtedly confronted.

About the conference

Once a year we bring together researchers and practitioners from various fields. We provide a platform where participants share their knowledge and insights, collaborate, and innovate. We promote an interdisciplinary approach to tackling long-lasting and contemporary issues.

The language of the conference is English. The presentation will be organized in panels and plenary session with keynote speakers and the program of the conference will be published no later than 25.10.2024.

Participants can attend the sessions and present their research online as well.
